

FRANCESCO FERRERI

ANTHROPOLOGIST

OVERVIEW

I am a cultural anthropologist with a focus on gender and sexuality. I am currently studying to become a sexuality educator. I am the president of Ribaltamente APS. I work at Hub Pallanza as educator and anthropologist. Creator of "Antropoché?", first Italian anthropological podcast. As an anthropologist I aim at promoting gender equality, respect of diversity and showing that anthropology has all the tools to do so.

RibaltaMente APS

Genuary 2018 - Ongoing

- President since 2019

"RibaltaMente" is an anthropological association that creates workshops for schools and companies. Its goals are to promote diversity and inclusion through the useful tools of anthropology, and also help people develop critical thinking that can be used to have a better understanding of the world. As president, I am working to make this discipline more and more known and accessible to as many people as possible. In order to do so, the association now creates several events that did not stop even during the lockdown.

Antropoché?

October 2018 - Ongoing

- Creator & Host

The first podcast in Italian language about anthropology focusing on gender issues, diversity and inclusion. The platform also supported with Instagram and Facebook.

I had the opportunity to invite in several episodes professional figures from various fields (psychologists, sexologists, lawyers, doctors, sociologists, educators and more) and they helped me build an interdisciplinary approach, which is an aspect in which I strongly believe. Moreover, the podcast gave me the opportunity to be part of several projects that work in the field that helped me to grow as an anthropologist and communicator.

Hub Pallanza

September 2019 - Ongoing

As an educator at Hub Pallanza, I teach Italian language to people from different nationalities, introduce them to Italian culture as a cultural mediator and help them to become active participants in the community.
